Chautauqua County vet, who spoke out against “Don’t Ask, Don’t Tell,” killed in crash

by Cyndi Moon (@cyndimoon_tg)

A former U.S. Army Sergeant, who actively fought against the military’s “Don’t Ask, Don’t Tell” policy was killed in a car crash.

Sheriff’s deputies said Darren Manzella, 36, was killed August 29 along Interstate 490 in Pittsford, NY, just outside Rochester. Manzella side-swiped another car, and while pushing his car towards the side of the road, he was hit by an SUV.

Sergeant Manzella made national headlines for speaking out against DADT in a 2007 interview with “60 Minutes.” He was discharged from the Army in 2008. Friends said Manzella had just married his partner in July.

“Don’t Ask Don’t Tell” was repealed in 2011.

About Darren Manzella:

- Native of Portland, NY (Chautauqua County)
- Enlisted in Army in 2002 (served as a medic)

- Served with 1st Cavalry Div., Ft. Hood, TX
- Came out to Military Supervisor in 2006
- Awarded Combat Medical Badge for service in Iraq
- Discharged in 2008 for “homosexual admission”

LGBT History Month 2013

Equality Forum presents LGBT History Month 2013 - online at www.lgbtHistoryMonth.com.

"In its 8th year, there are 248 Icons with resources archived on the site, making LGBT History Month the free go-to site for LGBT role models, civil rights history, and our national and international impact," stated Malcolm Lazin, Executive Director, Equality Forum and founder of LGBT History Month.

Each day in October, an Icon is featured with a free video, biography, bibliography, downloadable images and other educational resources.

The 248 Icons from inception in 2006 to 2013 are archived on the site and accessed under "Icon Search" on the top navigation bar. Users, educators and journalists can find Icons in a cloud of more than 150 descriptors/tags.

In 2012, the LA Unified, Broward County (FL), and Palm Beach County (FL) school districts became the first districts to collaborate in LGBT History Month. In 2013, at least three more major school districts will be collaborating: Baltimore County (MD), Fresno Unified (CA), and Charlotte-Mecklenberg County (NC).

Equality Forum (www.equalityforum.com), a national and international LGBT civil rights organization with an educational focus, coordinates LGBT History Month worldwide, produces documentary films, undertakes high-impact initiatives and presents annually the largest national and international LGBT civil rights summit.
