Youngest Orlando victim would have started at 'Hurst this fall

On June 11, Akyra Murray, 18, was visiting Florida to celebrate, having just graduated third in her class at Philadelphia's West Catholic High School. She was a star basketball player, and had earned a full scholarship at Mercyhurst University in Erie.

That night, Akyra went out to Pulse with her her cousin Tiara and friend Patience. All three girls were shot. Tiara and Patience survived the attack, Akyra did not.

The event was organized by NW PA Pride Alliance. Speakers included Alex Sphon, president of NW PA Pride Alliance; Rev. Dr. Rich McCarty, senior pastor of Community United Church; Michael Mahler, co-editor of Erie Gay News; and Bob Merski, Erie City Councilmember. Other elected officials attending included Erie County Councilmembers Andre Horton and Jay Breneman.

Coverage was provided by both local TV news crews and also Erie Times News.
