2012's Landmark Elections!

by Michael Mahler

This was a landmark election for LGBTQ rights. President Barack Obama (D) was re-elected after publicly endorsing marriage equality. Tammy Baldwin D-WI, became the first openly LGBT person elected to the US Senate. Stacey Laughton (D) became the first openly transgender person elected to state office in New Hampshire, as well as the first trans person elected in the nation. All four marriage related ballot initiatives had pro gay results. Maine, Maryland and Washington passed marriage equality, and a constitutional amendment banning marriage equality in Minnesota was defeated; this ends a 32-state series of defeats for the LGBT community. Also, there was a record number of LGBT people elected to Congress and Senate. Several LGBT friendly candidates were elected in Erie County including Sean Wiley (PA Senate 49-D), Ryan Bizzarro (PA Assembly 3-D), Flo Fabrizio (PA Assembly 1-D), and Pat Harkins (PA Assembly 2-D.) Many LGBT people were active in campaigns in both parties.

November 6, 2012, Tammy Baldwin (D-Wisconsin) became the first openly gay candidate to be elected to the U.S. Senate. See item on elections on this page.

Clarion University presents play about Prop 8

Info from Clarion University

Clarion University Theatre Department will present a one-night-only reading of "8," a play chronicling the historic trial in the federal constitutional challenge to California's Proposition 8, written by Academy Award-winning screenwriter Dustin Lance Black.

"8" is an unprecedented account of the Federal District Court trial in Perry v. Schwarzenegger (now Perry v. Brown), the case filed to overturn Proposition 8, which banned gay and lesbian marriage in California.

Black, who penned the Academy Award-winning feature film "Milk," as well as the film "J. Edgar," based "8" on the actual words of the trial transcripts, first-hand observations of the courtroom proceedings and interviews with the plaintiffs and their families.

"8" will be performed in the Marwick-Boyd Little Theatre (main campus) at 8 p.m. Dec. 7, details: www.clarion.edu/365473/

LBT Women's Laurie Finch witness at recent bank robbery

On November 10, Laurie Finch, grand poobah of LBT Women, had the misfortune of walking into the 8th & Pittsburgh PNC Bank behind the man who was about to rob it. As soon as the robbery occurred, she began sending updates on Facebook, never losing her well-known sense of humor. After she and the other customers were allowed to leave, she posted this update:

November 10 -"effin great! I AM LOCKED IN MY BANK...Apparently the guy who walked in right in front of me robbed it. he is gone, all is fine... this just sucks

2:28pm - "Okay here is how it happend. I ran to the bank to get some cash for today. The ATM was out of order so I parked and went in. A young guy entered in front of me. (I remember thinking he was rude cause he didn't hold the door for me) I was waiting my turn and instead of the teller calling me up after she waited on him...she closed her window, and then she walked to the back. She came right back out with another woman who immediately walked to the front door, locked it, and announced for everyone to remain calm, but the bank had just been robbed. She said we should stay there till the cops came. Then she took the customers ... maybe 3 or 4 and had us fill out statements. I didn't remember much, just he was young , maybe blonde and was wearing jeans...I don't notice guys that much...anyhow...then I had to talk to a cop, and then they said I could go. Then the bank lady asked me if I got my money, and I told her no...she told me where the closest branch was. I asked her if I didn't even get a lollipop or anything? Ha! they only had Tootsie Rolls! Then when I walked out the guys from ch. 24 news got me. and I had to do an on camera interview...I told them they were too late, I had already posted it on Facebook! But I ended up talking to them anyhow...sheesh..>this day has to get better

3:49pm - "I did get to talk to a good looking female cop though!

5:10pm - "Now I can cross being in a bank robbery off my bucket list...LOL...but I gotta tell you, the rest of my day has been pretty boring..LOL"
