Meadville City Council offers domestic partner benefits to Meadville city employees

By Peg Watts

December 10, 2013 - Meadville, PA Progress toward fair and equal treatment for same-sex couples has arrived in the municipality of Meadville, Pennsylvania. Meadville City Council member, Robert Langley confirmed —as of January 1, 2014—same sex domestic partners not currently afforded healthcare benefits under labor contracts will now be provided dependent coverage.

In a study session on December 4, 2013, it was unanimously decided that, although Pennsylvania does not currently allow same sex marriage; many same-sex couples do meet the commonwealth's criteria for domestic partnership. The council agreed allowing these couples dependent health coverage is in everyone's best interest.

“We want to be fair and equal to all of our employees and their families,” Langley explains. “It shows the city cares about all families no matter what they look like. This was discussed several years ago -- but the provider at that time did not have this option. Now that it does - we want to move forward.”

The new policy also sets criteria for establishing domestic partnerships - including a list of documented evidence. For instance, a marriage certificate from another state or commonwealth that recognizes same-sex marriage would be considered documentary evidence. The act would become invalid should Pennsylvania or a high court decision make it unnecessary.

This heartbreaking film tells the true story of two men whose life together was cut short when one died in a tragic accident and his husband was forced to fight for recognition as a surviving spouse. There is no cost for co-sponsoring organizations, just a commitment to help bring members to the screening. If your group is interested, please contact PFLAG president Alex Sphon at 814-368-3311 or pflag.erie.crawford@gmail.com

from Dykeman Young Gallery

The Dykeman Young Gallery is proud to present Hollywood Costumes Selections from the Dykeman Young Collection, a unique exhibition showcasing costumes from more than 50 films including Across The Universe, Catch Me If You Can, Chicago, O Brother Where Art Thou, Austin Powers, Walk The Line, and Kinsey. With this exhibition, the Dykeman Young Gallery gives the greater Jamestown area a special behind-the-scenes look at the art of costume design and its powerful role in filmmaking.

The exhibit is a fundraiser for the newly merged Reg Lenna Center for the Arts and Evergreen Health Services (formerly AIDS Community Services).

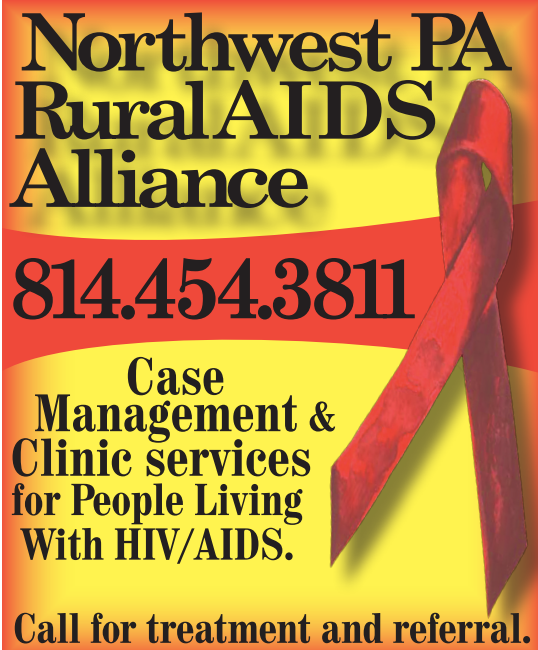

As visitors journey through the exhibition, they travel to various times and places experiencing the history, drama and comedy all over again, while simultaneously learning about what goes into crafting the perfect costume.

The Dykeman Young Collection is known in Hollywood for its impressive inventory of elegant evening wear, as well as its daytime wear, character wear and 20th century workwear. Academy Award-winning costume designer Ann Roth (The English Patient) described the Dykeman Young Collection as “high quality, genuinely authentic, with fabulous variety.” Oscar-winning Designer Albert Wolsky (Bugsy and All That Jazz) said that he “wouldn’t think of doing a period picture without visiting the Dykeman Young Collection. It’s a secure “go to” resource - in mint condition.”

The show runs from December 16 through January 15. Admission is $6.00 and the gallery is open from 1-7 p.m., Monday-Saturday. Advance sale tickets are available 2nd Floor Emporium at the Dykeman Young Gallery.

The Dykeman Young Gallery is located at 100 E. 2nd St., Jamestown, NY. Please call 716.483.5772 for more information.

14th Annual Lake Erie Gala

by Melanie Shubitowski, President – Erie Sisters

The 14th annual Lake Erie Gala, sponsored by the Erie Sisters Transgender Support Group, was held from November 20-24 at the Avalon Hotel in downtown Erie.

This year's Gala saw near record attendance, drawing transgenders and their spouses/significant others from as far as Denver, Colorado. Spousal and first timer attendance was at an all time high. The Gala featured tours to area wineries and other local attractions, fine meals and entertainment. On Wednesday, the ladies went to "All That Glitters" on E. 8th Street for discount shopping, wine and cheese, and a demonstration of various ways to wear scarves and other accessories. After shopping, we had dinner at El Toro Loco. Thursday saw a tour of two wineries and the Erie Brewing Company, and a performance after dinner that evening of "Whose Line is it Anyway" by the local performance group, "In All Seriousness." Friday's tours included more wineries and a tour of the Erie

Art Museum. After dinner that evening, entertainment featured local hypnotist, Devin Knight. Dinners at the Avalon Thursday and Friday were themed. Thursday was a Sock Hop, and Friday was biker night, with prizes given to those deemed best dressed for the themes. The Gala attracted many vendors from the region, selling cosmetics, clothing, wigs, and other items. Saturday saw a return of the fashion show, with girls modeling attired in various categories, and our annual Glitter Ball capped off the week's events on Saturday night.

The Erie Sisters has enjoyed exponential growth over the past several years, due largely to our new website launched four years ago at <http://erisisters.ning.com>. With over 1200 site members worldwide now, we look forward to what 2014 will bring us.
